Classes Create Commercial Craziness.

The Huskies kicked off a week of "Commercial Craziness." In the minds of many, the week lived up to its billing. Homecoming 1978 was one of the unforgettable events of the year.

Spirit was shown by several students by participating in dress-up days which included over-haul-em day, sock-it-to-em day, tie-em-down day, suspend-em-day and brown & orange day.

The annual pep rally was held Thursday night in the high school gym. The highlight of the evening was when senior Jeanne Greve was crowned Homecoming Queen. Her court included seniors Lisa Kaiser, Jackie Kerby, Teresa McGill and Robin Miller. Skits and cheers were performed by the cheerleaders and student body.

The sky was ablaze with a bonfire as the pep rally continued outside. Some had their nights mixed up when the bonfire was set off prematurly on Wednesday evening. Keeping up with the tradition of freshman initiation seniors dug a pit and helped freshmen find its whereabouts.

The parade filled the streets of Arcadia on Friday afternoon. During the parade, judges evaluated the floats for class competition. For the second year in a row the class of 79 won first place, second were the juniors, sophomores placed third with freshmen at the bottom.

Huskies put the "icing on the cake" for Homecoming 1978 by defeating the Frankton Eagles—13 to 0.

Halftime activities included a production by the band and corps, introduction of queen and her court, and announcement of float placings. Homecoming week was concluded with a dance sponsored by the Foreign Language Club with D.J. Majik Mitch from WNAP playing tunes.

"Earnest" Highlights HH Stage

Miss Prism expands her knowledge with a book.

"Importance of Being Earnest", a comedy about two young men and their love affairs, finds Algernon Moncrieff (Craig Waltz) and his best friend Jack Worthing (Brad Roudebush) each claiming to be Ernest to win over Cecily Cardew (Lori Modlin) and Gwendolyne (Kim Davis). Adding to the confusion is Lady Bracknell (Claire Burns), an overpowering woman who strongly disapproves of a marriage between Jack and Gwendolyne.

The play was put into production under the supervision of Mrs. Davis and Capi Penn.

Merriman presents a calling card to Cecily.

Stage Turns Into Room 718, Plaza Suite

For the spring play, the Drama club presented Neil Simon's "Plaza Suite". Turning the junior high stage into Room 718, Plaza Suite was no easy task but it was accomplished through the superior direction of sponsor Mrs. Davis and student director, Claire Burns. The play found the audience involved in three different acts, each taking place in the same hotel room over a span of several years.

Spirited Huskies are Runner-Up in Tough Competition

Hey! Look at the scoreboard and see who's ahead—HEIGHTS by "25 pts."

The Huskies were fired up and ready for sectional. Getting ready for all the events dress up days started it all off. Starting on Friday everyone dressed up as cowboys. Monday was overhall 'em day, but no one showed up for school because of being snowed out. Tuesday some wore overhall 'em day and some remembered Tuesday's day which was career day. Following school each class was assigned a wall in the gym to decorate with Seniors getting the main hall. Winning the contest was the Junior class. Their main theme for their hall was Somewhere Over the Rainbow. The day was wrapped up by a pep rally in the evening. When the big day came, Wednesday, it was color day. Everyone was in brown and orange. The night finally rolled around when the Huskies faced the Royals, defeating them was no problem. Thursday, students came back dressed up like twins. Friday was T-shirt day. The evening soon came when the Huskies faced the Sheridan Blackhawks. Defeating them led the Huskies in the final game against the Greyhounds. The Greyhounds won but the Huskies came back with runner-up. The team received cookies and the cheerleaders received corsages. Following the game the Huskies came back, and the fans honored the team's great efforts.

"I Want to Speak In French"

Something new has come to Heights—a new foreign language. The French department has been very active as students took a day out of school and went to La Tours, a French restaurant in Indianapolis, and ate their lunch. The French students also had a picnic at the Cicero Park. Miss Myers, the French teacher, taught her classes how to cook French food.

A trip was also being planned by the French department to go to Canada but due to the lack of interest it was cancelled.

One day out of the year the students were told to bring in an object and explain what it was in French.

North Central Association Comes to Heights.

Every eight years the North Central Association Commissions on Secondary Schools, evaluates our school.

On January 23, a voluntary team of thirteen members arrived at Heights. The prime concern of the team was to determine the actual situation as it exists in the school and not to pass judgement on the professional personnel involved.

Keeping this in mind, team members toured our school reviewing our facilities, observing classroom activities and talking to students about what they liked or disliked at Heights.

The committee then meets and agrees upon strengths, weaknesses, recommendations, and evaluations of each section, representing the entire committee.

N.C. team members look over and discuss their findings.

Entering high school as "green freshmen or rookies", the class of 79 left as young responsible adults. Seniors took advantage of their "upperclass" rank by initiating freshmen by having them nosing pennies across the gym floor during lunch hours. The majority of seniors came to school half-days and worked the other half. Because of lack of interest, the class of 79 was the first to do away with the senior trip. Although many resorted to "sun & fun" in Florida, while others visited prospective colleges.

Seniors won first in the Homecoming float competition and Hall decorating contest. Other credits include Seniors Craig Waltz selected to McDonald's All-American Band. Chris Worthman qualifying for the state cross country meet, and Donna Flanders qualifying for the National Merit Scholarship.

The Seniors have seen many transitions the past 4 years from rock & roll to disco, the Doobie Brothers to the Blues Brothers, bell bottoms to straight leggs. Helping make the difference, were the seniors with something different.

The senior class was in good hands with the help of their sponsors Mrs. Hiatt and Mr. Chapman.

Remember the sleepless, the starless nights;
The cavernous feelings of anguish, hope,
Dejection, mixed with boundless fright.
Remember the awe, the reasoning we sought;
The severance of love we vainly fought;
The darkness we faced with candlelight.

But remember the finer things we shared;
Exuberant days taken hand in hand
Beneath blue-quilted skies and the stately Dove;
When spring never ended and winter was done,
Remember the time when we all were one;
. . . remember the one that we all still love . . .

Juniors Contemplate Beginning Of The End

With one more year left the juniors are making final career plans and decisions which might affect them the rest of their lives. College bound juniors took PSAT tests in October to prepare for further education in technical and vocational careers.

Homecoming turned out to be a difficult time for the junior class when float construction presented problems. Reconstruction measures were taken too late in the week for an expert touch. Even with difficulties "Raid the Eagles" took a second place in float competition. Float construction took place at Jodi Stover's.

Capi Penn, Dee Flanders, Kathy Montgomery, Ann Greve and Shirley House were final princess nominees and in a close race Ann Greve and Shirley House were chosen to represent the class as princesses. The juniors showed a lot of spirit throughout homecoming week by dressing up on spirit days and decorating their hall on Thursday after school. With eight out of ten junior cheerleaders and a majority of the football team the juniors were outstanding.

Money making projects during freshmen and sophomore years paid for the Junior-Senior prom on April 21, 1979 which was held at the Murat Shrine.

Maria Morrow, class president, did a great job organizing class projects and holding the class together. Juniors enthusiastically received the spirit stick on numerous occasions.

Juniors fill their spare time with extra curriculum activities such as dates, dances, athletic events, and cruising Tipton and Noblesville on a Saturday night.

Maria Morrow, Kevin Irions, Kathy Montgomery, and Jennifer Small led the junior class in a trying year.

Having elected officers the previous year, the sophomore class was led through the entire year by Michelle Drake, president; Paula Mitchell, vice-president; Julie Hammond, secretary; and Sheryl Gellinger, treasurer. Homecoming saw these students building a giant push button telephone with the slogan "PUSHING FOR A VICTORY". This float brought them into third place in the float competition. Given the honor to be princesses were Erica Swartz and Lisa Gullion.

Approximately $1700 was earned by the class early in the fall with magazine and record sales, greatly exceeding their goal. During a competition of homerooms, Miss Werblo's homeroom students brought in the most sales and were later treated to a pizza party.

Danny Hinshaw finds study hall a great place to rest.

The class of 1982 are on their way. Their class started off the year by electing Brian Bishop for President; Tonya Huffman for Vice-President; Jamie Hiatt, Secretary; Cecil Fox, Treasurer.

The "Frosh" class found something different and new to sell for a class money making project, in which they did very well, considering it's their first year at it.

When Homecoming came along, the "Frosh" class worked very hard to have only come in last place. The teachers that sponsored the "Frosh" class are: Mrs. Cline, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Wherling, Miss Schonhardt, Miss Anderson, and Mr. Samulson.

Mr. McKinny enjoys the Homecoming week with Overhallem!

Miss Schonhardt shows her technique of teaching.

The most important job of a principal in the eyes of Mr. David W. Griffith is to help the students with their problems and their education. Mr. Griffith serving his first year at Hamilton Heights High School as principal was previously principal at Northfield High School for 6 years. Two years as assistant principal, Mr. Eugene Pitts, has the duties of handling student attendance and student conduct in the halls before and between class periods and during lunch periods. Mr. Pitts also shares supervision at home Athletic contests and during special events.

Mrs. Barbara Cook who is secretary for Mr. Griffith also holds other duties as general office secretary and treasurer.

At the head of the Hamilton Heights School Corporation is the superintendent and the School Board. The new superintendent is Dr. Robert Carnal. School Board members are Mr. Keith Schulenberg, Mr. James Waltz, Mrs. Kay Hartly, and Mr. Ray Mosbough. Dr. Carnal and the school board have proposed that a new elementary be built and construction is now underway.

There are possibilities that additional areas may be extended from the high school for improved high school education.

Counselors Keep Busy With Scheduling and Other Duties

Several changes and additions have been made for the school through the guidance department. One main difference is the new computer grading system. For many years, Heights has been scheduling classes through a computer but now grade cards are computerized and grades have been switched from numerical to lettergrading. These changes have created a few problems for the department but by next year they should become commonplace. Also added courtesy guithe guidance department is a new career center located mainly in the media center. Through a $5,000 grant from the state department, the school has been able to purchase new books, filmstrips, files and magazines, Career World, to aid the student in choosing his career. Heading the guidance department is Mrs. Norma Perry, Guidance Director; Working with her is Jeanne Forkner, guidance counselor; Mrs. Sherry Shrock, secretary. Also helping with sophomore scheduling was Mr. Mike Hilton.

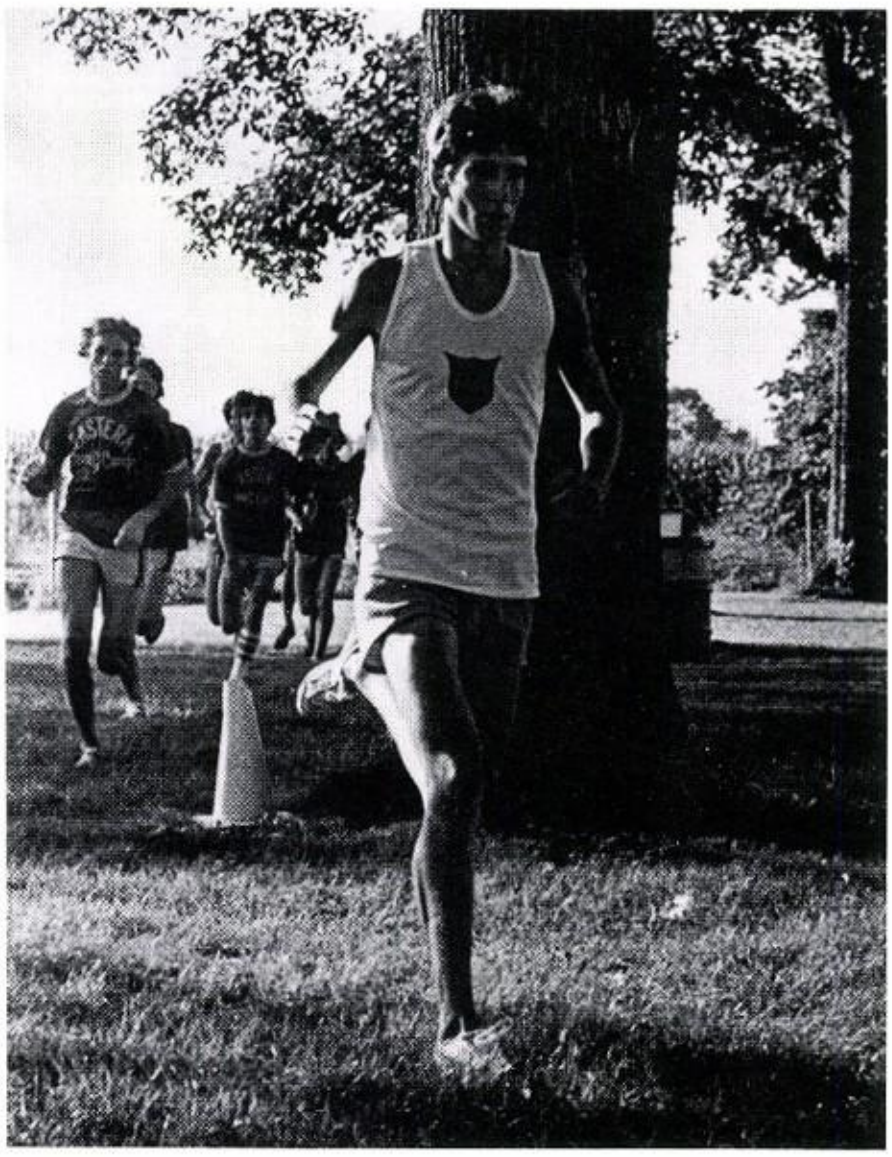
Mr. McKinny coached one of the hardest working Cross Country teams this past season. A record of 9-4 proved to be an outstanding team effort. Along with placing second out of ten schools in the Sheridan Invitational. The team also finished second in the Range Line Conference. The sectional turned out to be a little tougher than anticipated, with only one member, Chris Worthman, going on to regional.

For the first time in this school's history we had a runner participate in the regional and state meet. The runner who worked so hard on going to the top was Chris Worthman. Chris was the leader of the team. Other seniors doing an outstanding job on the Cross country team were Xen Small, John Landes, Paul Davenport, Jim Olney, and Chris Worthman. Xen Small and junior, David Landes did a tremendous job by coming in second on the team each totaling points of 215 each.



Chris Worthman is concentrating while trying to do the best of his ability.

Cheryl Bryant demonstrates one of her powerful serves.

Youth and inexperienced the varsity football team had a disappointing season of 2-8. Early in the season Senior End David Raines and Senior Quarterback Scott Sigler left the team in a result of injuries which brought a great loss to the team. Replacing quarterback Scott Sigler was Sophomore Rex Leach who gained confidence as the season progressed. In the course of the season the crew played four different state rated teams.

Team Member Lloyd Long received All Conference Team, Scholastic award, "Animal" award and Most Valuable Offensive Lineman honors. While member Rod Alden received awards for All County Team and Most Valuable Offensive Lineman—Even though the team had a tough time their new coach Mr. Mike Hilton made the difference as he kept their spirits high.

Soon after the conference, they traveled to Noblesville High School for the Sectional in which we placed 4th. again out of 6 schools. The team also traveled a lot on Saturday's for all day tournaments, which they enjoyed, and which gave them a lot of practice for important meets. They had 21 team members which was unusual about 4 or 5 years ago.

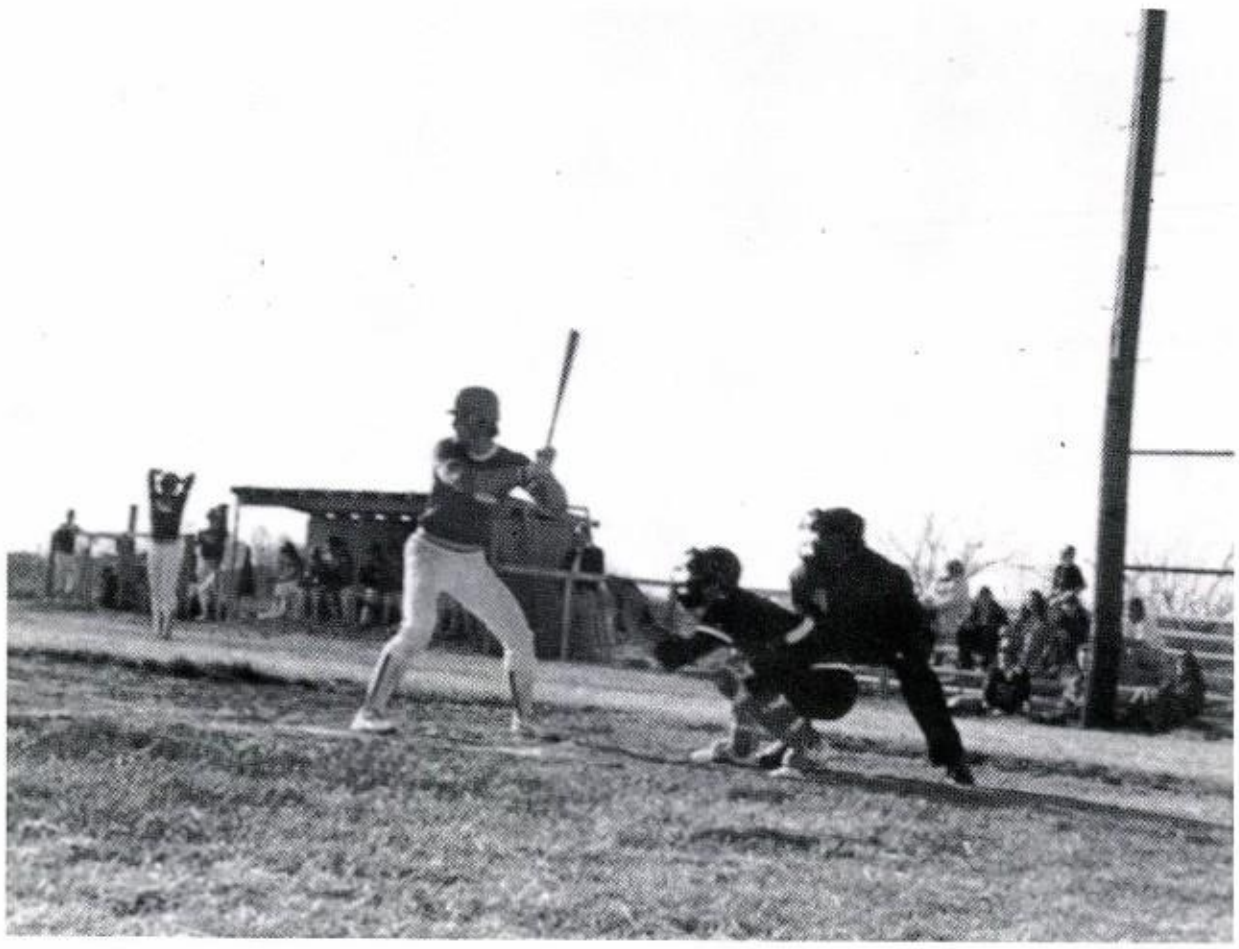
With only four seniors leaving the Husky Baseball team, it still remains young. Graduating players are David Endicott who bats 300, Scott Bowman catching defensively, Don Kennett batting 400, and Scott Sigler batting 333 and plays outfield. During the season the pitching staff has had control problems which cause them to give up many walks to their opponents. The team placed 2nd in the conference which is an improvement from 4th place last year.



Senior Scott Bowman hopes for a homerun as he prepares to slug the ball.

Sitting on the bench is a popular past time between innings.

Miss Myers, a new teacher this year, has made a response at Hamilton Heights with providing us with a new French club.

The French club is a great challenge for people who are interested in learning about French and the French way of life.

The French club made a trip to Indianapolis for a day of French food.

The French club's money making project this year was to sell candy at lunch time. This money will go towards their trip to Quebec in the summer.

J.C.L. Jr. Classical League, started off the year by making the Latin Club slaves, who are the 1st year club members, pull the chariot all through the Homecoming Parade. Later that evening the Foreign Language Clubs, together, sponsored the Homecoming Dance. The D.J. for the night was Jeremy Hale from WFBQ. Then moving on in the year was the chariot race which was Saturday, Nov 11, at Race Way Park in Indianapolis. They received the most beautiful chariot award. The money they raised from the race is put into a fund to build a museum and a study camp in Indy. five people participated. Then came the Christmas party, which the Latin and French Clubs celebrated together. Both groups also combined and went caroling Dec. 18, at the Health Care Center. On Feb. 15, the second year Latin Club members traveled to the Indiana Senate for State Latin Day and they also went to the Art Museum. The Latin Club members bought T-shirts which said, "J.C.L. Master" and "J.C.L. Slave". The club tried to sponsor a trip to Europe, but things didn't work out.

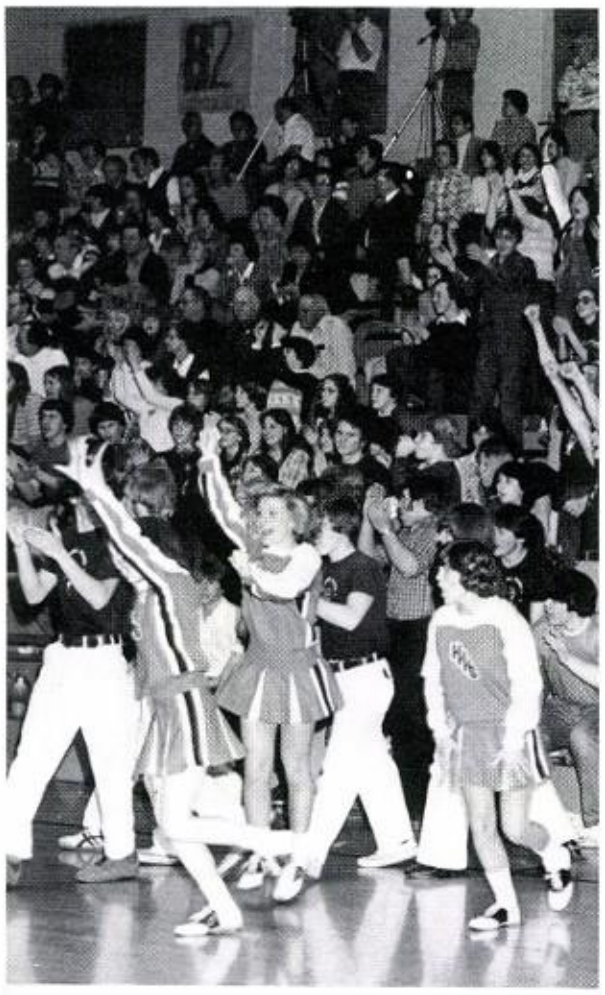
Roundball Rowdies Add Spirit To Ballgames



The varsity cheerleaders are very happy from just winning the game! (which happened often)

The 1978-79 Huskie Pep Club got off to a good start for basketball season. There were approximately 45 members. The officers this year were: President—Donna Eller; Vice President—Cheryl Bryant; Secretary—Bobby Haymaker; Treasurer—Jill Roland. This year, there was something added to help out the girls pep club and they were called the Round-Ball-Rowdies, which was a boys pep club. The boys voices really came in handy when the team was cutting-it-close with the points. The boys outfits were brown T-shirts with "Roundball-Rowdies" printed on them. The girls had orange T-shirts with "Heights Huskies" printed on them.

DRAMA CLUB

The curtains are closed, backstage crew members race about the set making last minute adjustments, actors with hands wipe excess make-up from their flushed cheeks while getting into position. Slowly the curtain opens and the murmur of voices fade away.

This is what drama club is all about. With the help of a great sponsor Mrs. Julie Davis the club presented two plays both comedys. "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "Plaza Suite". Adding to performances is the sectional skit "Victory Island" based on the T.V. series Fantasy Island.

The club and the drama classes kept busy taking field trips to other high school auditoriums. Helping to make the difference in the Drama Club were the officers. President Craig Waltz, Vice President Brad Roudebush, Secretary Lori Modlin, and Treasurer Claire Burns.

The Love Is Club believes that Jesus Christ came to earth to forgive all men and women of sins they have committed in their lives so that we might glory in Jesus who saved us from eternal doom and damnation, but only through faith in Jesus can we avoid such punishment.

The Club does many things during the year. They travel to nursing homes in and around Arcadia and sing carols to the patients to try to get them in the Christmas Spirit and to let them know that someone cares. When a student of Hamilton Heights loses a member of his family, the Love Is Club usually sends flowers. They also try to get guest speakers to come in and talk to the students during convocations and such. The club also travels to other Christian Colleges to visit and see what they're like. At their meetings they have lessons on the scripture of the Holy Bible.

Student Congress—Is the Students—

And For the Students

Each year in addition to planning and executing many of the activities that Homecoming entails the Student Congress plans and finances student assemblies such as convocations., regulates the flow of money-making projects and other student activities within the school and provides various service projects beneficial to the school and the student body. Special activities this year include work by the Semester Test Committee to try and make semester tests optional and the hours of time and effort put forth by the constitution Revision Committee to revise the Student Congress's constitution.

Service projects that seem to be within the scope of the Congress this year and putting a water cooler in the new wing, buying a display case for the girls' track and field records and helping the media center to finance a new set of science encyclopedias, which the Congress hopes to pay for by holding a T.V. raffle and a car smash-up in the spring.

Clubs donating books and subscriptions aided in the growth of the Media Center. The band sponsored a subscription for Downbeat while the student government sponsored Psychology Today. Other clubs donated books like the Latin club purchasing Imperial Rome and the Drama club sponsored two books on the theater.

One main attraction of the Media center is a set of career files made possible by a government grant. Sets of books have been placed in the center among them are a twelve volume set of Contempory Issues, reprints from New York Times, a twelve volume set dealing with the history of the 20th century, and a twenty volume set of the Annals of America, donated in the memory of Kevin Garland.

Getting the information is only the beginning of a good story. Staff members work hours on grammar, the different aspects of a feature, amount of words required and trying continuously to have a positive outlook on their topic.

Editor, Karen King and Layout-Editor, Mindy Lacy attended camp at Ball State in August to get familiar with the basics of news writing. At the beginning of the year a new name was chosen by a vote of the student body. "Husky Hylites" began a new career.

A new grading scale went into effect the second semester. This proved effective in meeting deadlines and seemed to put more work into their stories.

With the help of Mr. Cook and the Graphic Arts Department papers were published every other week.

Our Gang is "Green"

First semester was very trying with only a six member staff, never before had the staff members worked on a year book. Organizing and planning were two major steps which took six week's to conquer. Editor, Jennifer Small attended camp early in August to learn the techniques of putting a yearbook together. With the help of the advisor Violet Schonhardt, construction got underway.

Selling ads was definitely a chore with little support from the community in general with decreased ad pages, and money.

Polly Hodgins, head photographer, also attended camp at Ball State. She, being the photographer for both newspaper and yearbook became very pressured to meet her deadlines. After she got into the swing of things other responsibilities piled up. Raymond Lewis and Tracy Lockwood came in second semester to ease her work load.

Others on the staff: Mindy Lacy, Lisa Kaiser, John Story, Kathy Owens, Becky Miller, Sheila Lee, Tami Lee, Lisa Gullion, and Cheryl Fetcher worked hard to perfect their layouts and to meet their deadlines.

The staff also had adjustments to make because of a change in school photographers. Scheduling photo sessions and collecting money from ordered pictures had to be worked out. Mindy Lacy was the right hand gal who kept us Cool. Staff members were estatic when they reached their goal of completing the yearbook.

The 41 band members and Flag corp members performed in every football and basketball game. They also won many awards from the contests in which they entered and performed in a variety of parades. They are as follows: Demita Staton, Patricia Wright, Dawn Wright, Sandy Jackson, Tracy Bently and Head Captain Thresa Marcum. Mrs. Davis, Mr. Griffey, Miss Schonhardt, Miss Werblo, and Mrs. Wherling are the other teachers who assist in making the H.H.H.S. English department a success.

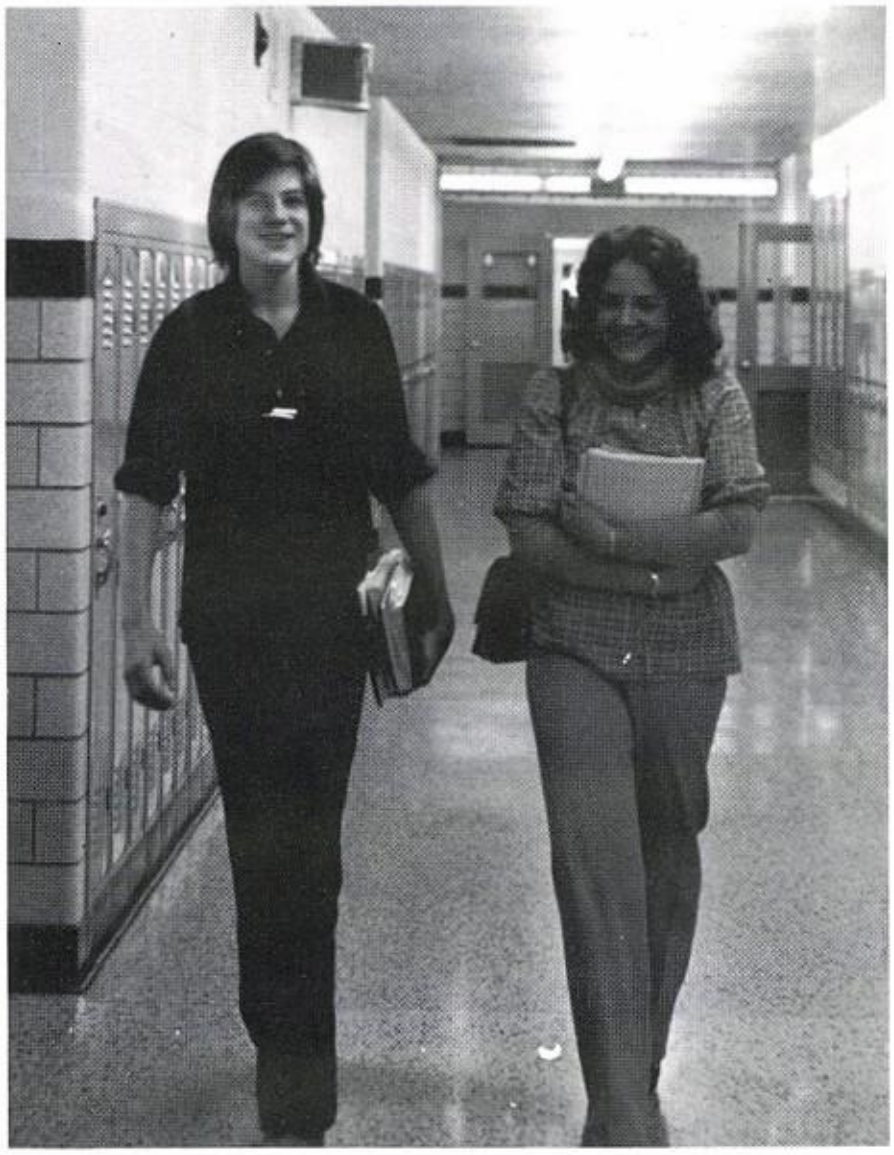
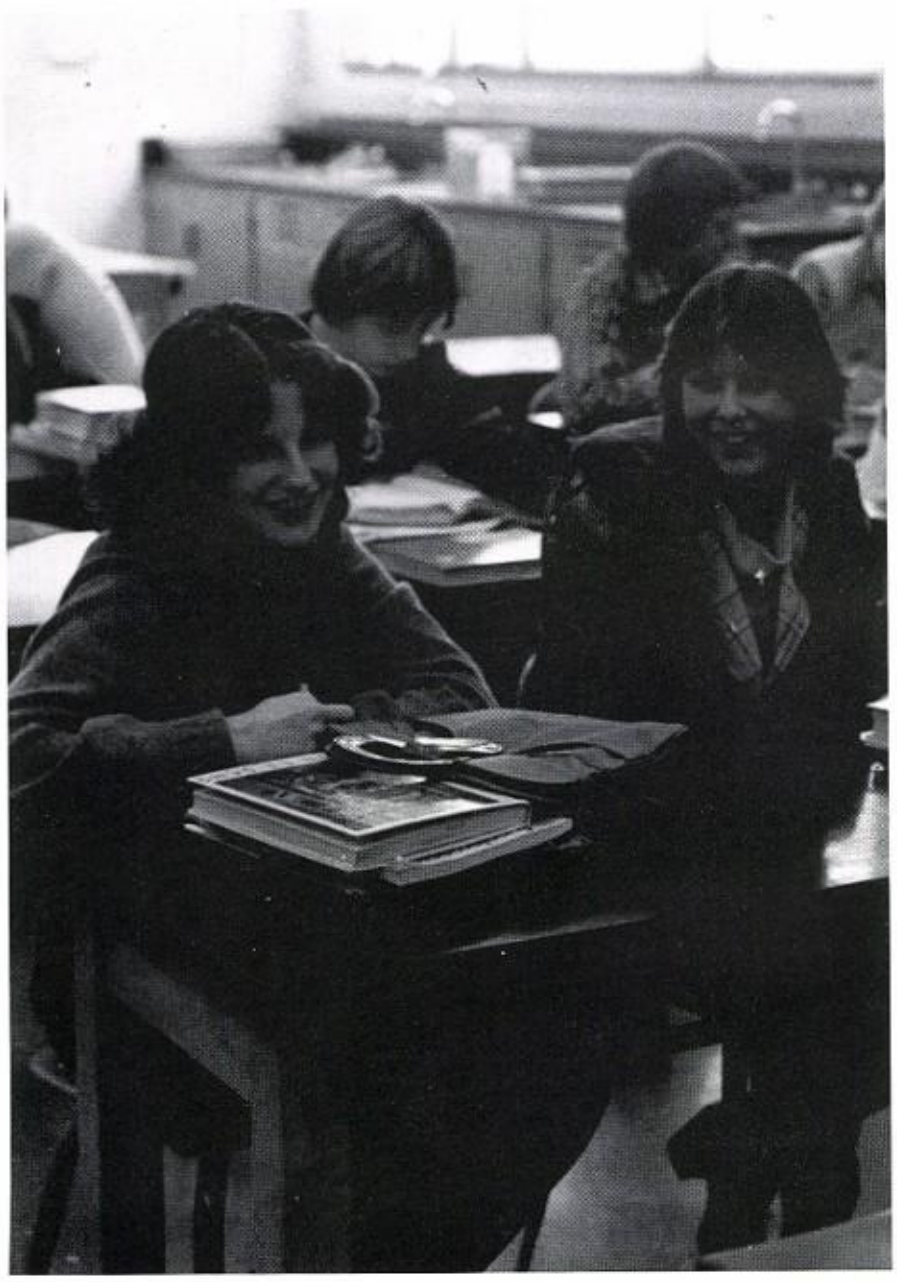
Mrs. Kline presents Tammy Boyer with an award during the program.

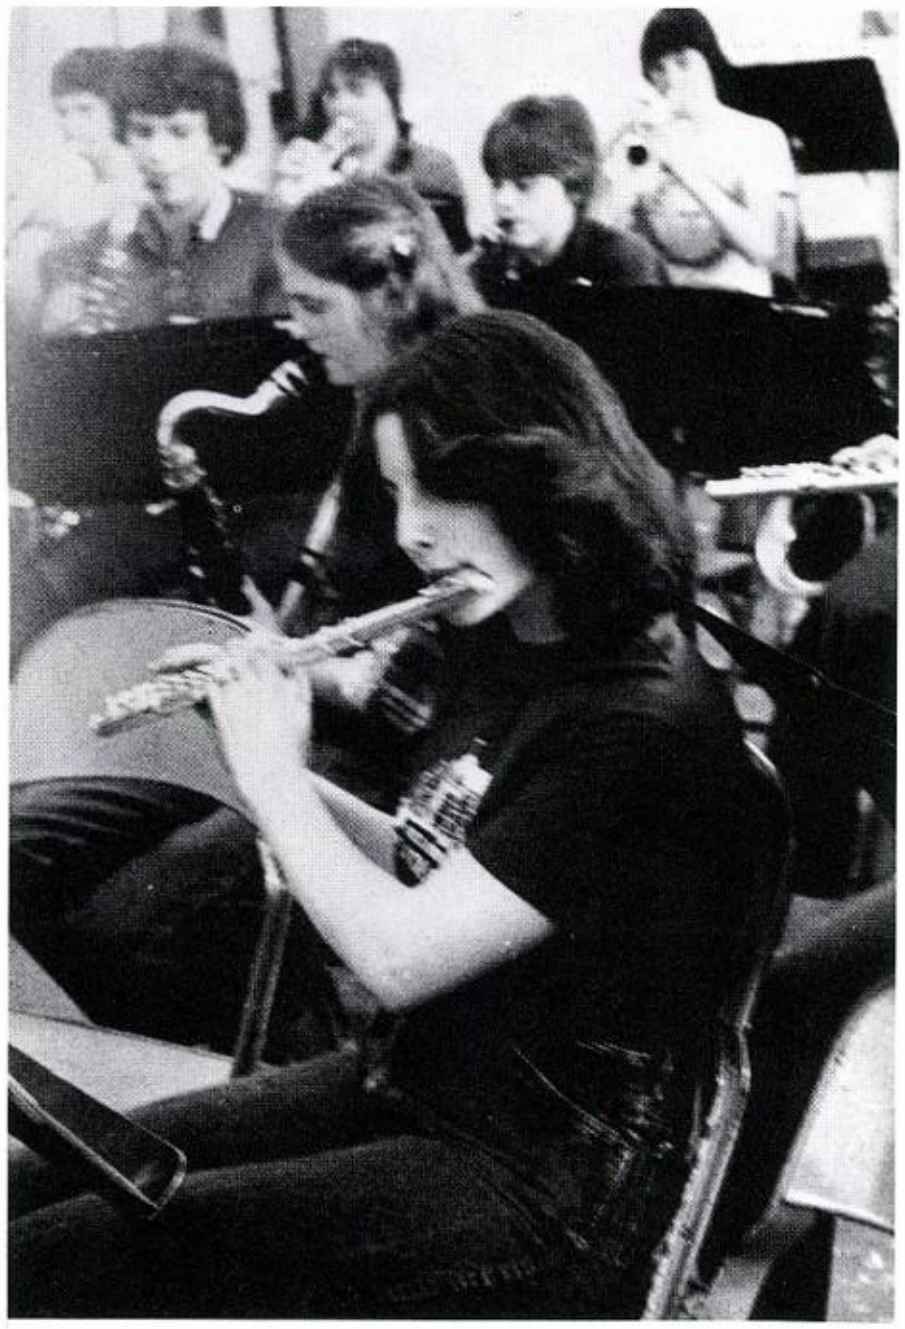
Top—Wendy Crook returns to her seat proudly after receiving her medal. Below—Kelei Baker smiles with appreciation as Miss Basone congratulates her.

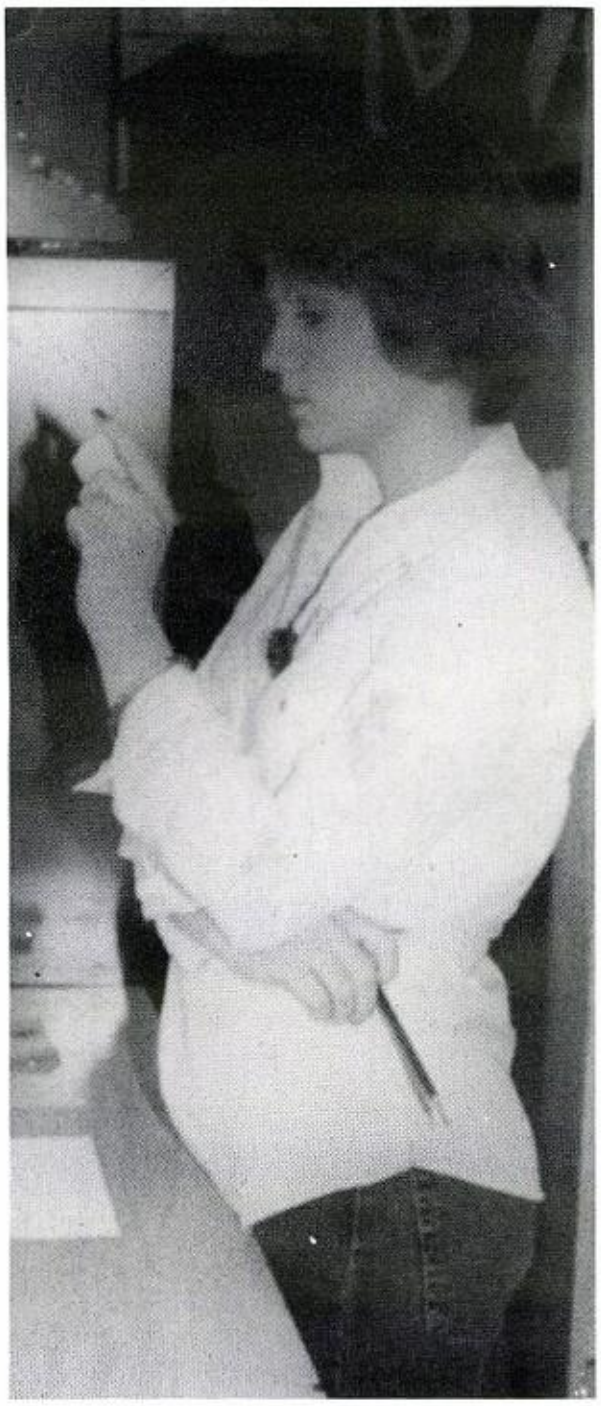
Different Attitudes Influence The Days Work





The End Is Not The End But The Beginning





We Will Face Greater Trials

Our Personalities Mold Our Future differences

Opportunities Will Teach Us Individuality

To Whom It May Concern:

The '79 yearbook, Heritage, would like to thank our photographer Rusty Beck for all his time and knowledge to help better our book, Polly Hodgin for all her long hours of tedious work with the much needed assistance of Bruce Rathbun, Tracy Lockwood, and Raymond Lewis.

I sincerely appreciated all the extra time my fantastic staff put in. Although we were very inexperienced and we are definitely not faultless, please excuse our errors. Our sponsor, Violet Schonhardt has terrific patience!
